Jutta's training style is very people oriented, focused on the learner's needs, encouraging a lot of interaction and connection between the participants. Learning needs to happen in a safe and emotionally positive atmosphere which Jutta skillfully creates. Her energy is contagious—she simply likes to support people in their personal development. Jutta has worked with many leaders and employees encouraging them to critical self-reflection and creating awareness about behaviors and the impact on other people.

In my free time, I like to: play clarinet, go for a run with my friends, spend time with my family or friends, lead my local Scout group and sit at the campfire with them, read a book, go outside in the woods, have a good glass of red wine together with an inspiring conversation... and much more!
